REVIEW

GOLDEN TEXT—Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus the Savior.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus the Savior.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Word About Doing Good.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The King Serving.

Since the lessons of the quarter are bound together by the threefold unity of one book, one theme, and one person, the best method of review for young people and adults is to present the book of Matthew as a whole, and each lesson in its relation to Matthew's central purpose. The central theme is Jesus Christ, the King, the fulfiller of the Messianic hope.

Lesson for January 5.

The King entered upon covenant with David concerning the Kingdom (II Sam. 7:5-16). Christ's genealogy shows His legal right to the throne of David (I:1-17). The Messiah was not only to be the seed of the woman (Gen. 3:15) and the son of a virgin (Isa. 7:14), but the mighty God (Isa. 9:6). Jesus Christ, the King, was begotten of the Holy Ghost and born of Mary, a betrothed virgin, Immanuel (Matt. 1:20, cf. Isa. 7:14).

Lesson for January 12.

The King entered upon His official work by being baptized. Christ's baptism was His act of consecration to the task of saving His people through the sacrifice of Himself upon the cross. Having received the official approval from the open heavens, the King went forth to the wilderness to meet and overcome the devil (Heb. 2:14). His victory demonstrated His ability to accomplish the work of redemption.

Lesson for January 19.

The voice of John the Baptist being stilled, the King becomes His own herald. His message was the same as John's, namely, "the kingdom of heaven at hand," which means the Messianic earth rule of Jesus Christ. He called helpers to His side and went through Galilee preaching with triumphant success.

Lesson for January 26.

This lesson shows the characteristics and responsibilities of the subjects of the kingdom, the beatitudes showing the characteristics, and salt and light the responsibilities. The life and testimony of the disciples are to light up the darkness of the world and preserve it from decay.

Lesson for February 2.

This lesson displays the principles which are to control the lives of the subjects of the kingdom. They should live a life of prayer, putting their trust in the Heavenly Father for temporal blessings. Spiritual affairs are to be first.

Lesson for February 9.

The subjects of the kingdom should be free from censorious judgments, be on the lookout for false teachers, avoid empty profession, and obey the words of Christ, the King.

Lesson for February 16.

In the performance of mighty works the King demonstrated His ability to administer the affairs of the kingdom. He showed His power over the chief foes of mankind—sickness, sin, satanic power, death, sorrow, and storms.

Lesson for February 23.

The kingdom was to be propagated by sending forth twelve men to preach the gospel of the kingdom. Their mission was authenticated by supernatural deeds.

Lesson for March 2.

In the propagation of the kingdom, violent opposition arose, resulting in the plan to kill the King. Opposition will be experienced by all who go forth in Christ's name.

Lesson for March 9.

The parables display the admixture of moral and spiritual conditions in the world between Christ's crucifixion and second coming. The parabolic method of teaching makes clear the truth to those who love it, but conceals it from those who do not.

Lesson for March 16.

The parables of the wheat and tares, mustard seed and leavened meal, show the outward growth and inner decay of the work instituted by Christ in the interval between His crucifixion and second coming.

Lesson for March 23.

Though rejected by the nation, the King continued His ministry of healing and teaching.

LARGE PRIZE TO LOCAL BOYS AND GIRLS

Boys and girls of this community may enter the search now being made to find the oldest users of America's pioneer fertilizer, according to plans of the Nitrate Centenary Contest, which has been recently announced as a feature of the 100-year history of nitrate of soda in this country.

Exactly 100 cash prizes, with $50 as the first award, will be given boys and girls in this State who write the best stories about farmers who have used nitrate of soda, or Chilean nitrate, as it is now called, for at least 20 years. It is pointed out, however, that if two or more stories are written about the same farmer, only the best will be considered for the awards. An additional prize of $50 will be awarded for the best story written in the entire South.

The farmer in each State, whose farm is the longest and best record with the fertilizer, will receive a special award, consisting of one dollar for every year he has used nitrate of soda and an extra dollar for every year over 25 years. In addition the farmer in the entire South who has used the fertilizer for the longest period of time will be given a $50 award.

The project is sponsored by the Chilean Nitrate of Soda Educational Bureau, in recognition of the centenary of nitrate of soda, which is the oldest of the commercial fertilizers now used on American farms.

Details of the contest have been sent to county agents, vocational teachers, and high school teachers in all parts of the South.

We are looking for that fellow who knows how to make farms pay the tax.

"The twenty-third Psalm.

Psalm 19, quoting verses 1-9:

The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament showeth His handiwork. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night showeth knowledge. There is no speech nor language, where their voice is not heard. Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world.

In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun, which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a strong man to run a race. His going forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it: and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple. The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes. The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring forever; the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by Him; and without Him was not any thing made that was made. In Him was life; and the life was the light of men. And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not.—John 1:1-5.

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S request for authority to send a commission to investigate affairs in Haiti was approved by the house of representatives. The debate provided an opportunity for Oscar De Priest, negro representative from Chicago, to make his maiden speech, in support of the proposition. He took occasion to jibe the Southern Democrats some strong digs that made the Republicans glad. One opponent of the opposition Representative Huddleston of Alabama, who recently declined to serve on a house committee because De Priest had been appointed one of its members.

Seven Haitian political organizations have asked the United States to supervise the island's presidential election in April, 1930. Their petition is considered the climax of a campaign of the anti-Borno faction which hope to effect the withdrawal of American marines before the expiration of the treaty in 1936, under which the United States took over the safeguarding of the republic.

UNDER the terms of a decree recently handed to the Supreme Court of the United States by Charles Evans Hughes, special master, the Chicago sanitary district would be required to complete a $170,000,000 sewage treatment program within the next nine years. Meanwhile there would be successive reductions in the diversion of water from Lake Michigan at Chicago from 8,500 cubic feet per second to 4,500, 3,000 and finally, on completion of the sewage treatment works, to 1,500 feet per second, which Mr. Hughes holds is all that is required for sanitation purposes in the Chicago river. The figures given are exclusive of pumpage for domestic purposes. The proposed decree is of interest to the entire Great Lakes region, and the Mississippi valley.

Long Skirts Bad News for the Seals

Tacoma, Wash.—The return of longer skirts and corresponding increase in the length of fur coats may cause Uncle Sam to order 50,000 fur seals slain for their skins the coming summer. Last year 41,000 skins were taken from the Pribilof herds, that number being sufficient to fill the demand for such silky furs. With the knee length coat, not as much seal skin was required as will be the case in the newer mode.

CORA CHRISTINE WOOTTEN.

On March 5th the Lord saw fit to call little Cora Christine Wootten to join his band of angels in the great beyond.

Christine was only 4 years old and the daughter of Mr and Mrs. C. C. Wootten. She was sick only a short while with measles, followed by pneumonia, which was more than her frail little body could stand. All that loving earthly hands could do was done for her and the rest submitted to the Heavenly Father, whose will was to take her to Himself.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. F. Burnett, at her grandfather's, Mr. Duncan Ferguson, with interment in the family burying ground. Hymns, "Jesus is Calling" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" were sung at the grave.

She leaves to mourn their loss besides her mother and father the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Tom McFaden, Misses Hallie, Ola, Mildred and Florence Wootten, and Messrs. Charlie, John, Carl, Courtney, Robert and Lewis Wootten.

Each day recalls sad memories of a loved one gone to rest,
For those who think of her today are those who loved her best.
Bright and loving in all he ways,
A beautiful character to the end of her days.

CLINTON MARSH LUCADO

Clinton Lucado died Tuesday, March 18, at 1 o'clock A. M.

He was only sick nine days. He had pneumonia and then meningitis set in.

He suffered greatly, but bore it with patience. All that loving hands could do was done for him, but when God called he had to go. He died at the home of his grandparents, who raised him since he was seven weeks old. His remains were interred at the Lucado burying ground by the side of his mother Wednesday.

Clinton has been a member of Red Oak Baptist Church for several years and took an active part in all church, Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. work. He was only 16, but had many friends, for he was loved by all knew him. He is survived by his father, R. H. Lcado; two brothers, Robert and Harry Lucado, and also his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Marsh. Dear Clinton, we miss you from our home,

But when God called you had to come;
Although it is breaking our heart
When with you we had to part.
We've had you with us sixteen years
To join you in our joys and fears,
But now we'll see your face no more,
For you've joined your mother on the other shore.

A survey showing the extent to which chain and group banking has developed in the United States has been made and issued in booklet form by the American Bankers Association of New York City.

SECTIONS WHERE SAVINGS DECREASED

A regional analysis of the drop in the nation's savings deposits in banks, as recently reported by the American Bankers Association's Savings Bank Division in its annual compilation for 1929 shows the first decreases in the national savings in the twenty years during which it has published this data, records that all sections except the New England and the Pacific States groups recorded losses.

The published figures showed that on June 29, 1929, the total savings deposits in banks and trust companies in continental United States stood at $28,-127,656,000, which was $155,300,000 below the similar total for 1928, when there was an increase of $2,300,000,000.

The regional analysis by the six groups discloses, however, that the six New England states as a group gained more than $85,800,000 in savings and 152,984 in savings depositors, while the seven Pacific states as a group gained over $79,000,000 in deposits and nearly 278,000 in number of depositors. The gains in these two sections, however, were smaller than the gains recorded there for 1928. The sections which showed losses are the Middle Atlantic States, Southern States, East Central States and the West Central States.

SAVINGS PASSBOOKS SOUGHT BY CROOKS

Use Them to Steal Money by Forged Slips — Should Be Guarded as Carefully as Cash.

Continual vigilance in safeguarding savings pass books, as well as blank and cancelled checks, against theft by crooks, who use this material in forgery operations, is urged on bank customers by James E. Baum, Deputy Manager of the American Bankers Association, in charge of its Protective Department. This department is continually vigilant in promoting means, both among bankers and the general public, to thwart the operation of bank crooks. It annually investigates hundreds of crimes against banks and is responsible for the majority of arrests among this class of criminals.

"In a large majority of cases of forgeries on checks or savings withdrawal orders investigated by the American Bankers Association, stolen blank checks or savings pass books were the forgers' chief stock in trade," Mr. Baum says. "In many instances the temptation presented through the careless handling by depositors of cancelled or blank checks or pass books so that they fell into the hands of crooks was the immediate stimulus for hitherto honest people to commit their first criminal offense."

Banks should educate their depositors to exert the same degree of care in handling these instruments and to avoid leaving them about unguarded as they exercise in regard to actual money because they represent money, he declares.

By dealing with the bank robbery situation, Mr. Baum recommends the use of electrical alarms activated by any tampering with the wires or mechanism and also wider adoption of the plan of police forces now employed in a few states, declaring that last year in seven eastern states where state police forces were maintained there were only 29 bank holdups as against 164 similar attacks perpetrated against banks in five states in the central and far west, where banks are denied the advantages of the speedy and coordinated action given by statewide police forces.

"The records of the American Bankers Association Protective Department reveal that for many years the odds in favor of state police protection have been at least 5 to 1 when measured by the experience of banks in states where efficient police protection is missing in the rural districts," he says.

CONSIDERABLE relief was assured disabled veterans of the World war when the senate unanimously passed the veterans' hospitalization bill which had previously been put through the house. The measure carries a total appropriation of $15,-900,000.

World war veterans and dependants of deceased veterans who have now filed applications for federal compensation are warned by officials of the bureau that they must do so no later than January 2.

Chevrolet announces A NEW SERVICE POLICY

The Chevrolet Motor Company and its dealers are pleased to announce a new service policy—one of the most liberal ever offered on a low-priced automobile.

Put into force as a written agreement given to the purchaser by the Chevrolet dealer when the car is delivered—it offers the following provisions:

1 Every Chevrolet owner receives his car from the dealer in perfect condition—thoroughly lubricated, properly adjusted, and ready to operate efficiently from the first mile of ownership.

2 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection and adjustment of his car at the end of the first 500 miles of usage.

3 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection of his car every 1000 miles thereafter, so long as the car is in operation.

4 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free replacement of any part which may prove defective in workmanship or material, within the terms of Chevrolet's standard warranty. This includes both parts and labor.

5 Provision number 4 will be carried out by any Chevrolet dealer in the United States. As a result, the Chevrolet owner may travel to any part of the country with the assurance that the guarantee on materials and workmanship will remain in force.

This new policy constitutes proof of Chevrolet's high quality—for such liberal provisions could only be made in connection with a car built of fine materials to exacting standards of workmanship.

Back of this policy, and assuring its successful operation, is one of the most complete and efficient service organizations in the world.

There are more than 10,000 Authorized Chevrolet Dealer Service Stations in the United States alone. Each employs skilled mechanics thoroughly trained at Chevrolet Service Schools. Each has specially designed tools and machinery developed exclusively for Chevrolet service work. And each has on hand, at all times, an adequate stock of genuine Chevrolet replacement parts.

Chevrolet's flat-rate charges, including both parts and labor, are the lowest in the industry on many service operations!

In considering the purchase of a low-priced automobile, think what this service means—in terms of lasting satisfaction, as well as in increased economy.

THE QUALITIES OF LEADERSHIP

By JOHN G. LONSDALE
President American Bankers Association

Leadership and success, in a general way, are synonymous. They are both founded upon simple codes of thought and action, upon the realization that he who wins the laurels must be a doer, not a waiter, that application of energy, not time or luck, is what counts most. A rabbit's foot is a poor substitute for horse sense.

John G. Lonsdale

Both success and leadership, if they be of the highest quality, are the result of service to humanity. Service has been aptly described as "the supreme commitment of life." Analyze the lives and times of all great leaders of history and you will find that those whose names are enshrined in the hearts of their countrymen are those who sought to render a needed service to the populace.

Leadership, like success, need not, however, be international or national in its sphere in order to achieve great results. There is room for each of us to be a leader in his community, in his work, in his home, and in various organizations.

One of the indispensable qualities of leadership is the ability to persist steadfastly in the face of discouragements. If George Washington had not possessed the quality of persistence, he and his soldiers would never have survived the hunger and privations which were theirs at Valley Forge.

We have too many young men and young women these days saying a job cannot be done. Too many spend their time explaining why a thing can't be done, instead of saying, with firm resolve, that it can be done, and then going out and doing it. Anything that ought to be done is capable of being done. And anything worth doing at all is worth doing well. The fellow who handles a little job in a big way is always on the road to greater fields.

ON THURSDAY the senate, by a majority of ten votes, rejected the proposal of the Republican regulars for an increase in the sugar tariff. The amendment of Senator Harrison of Mississippi forcing the reduction in the tariff bill of the existing rate of 1.76 cents a pounds on Cuban sugar was adopted, 48 to 38. The finance committee had proposed a rate of 2.20 cents on Cuban sugar and the bill passed by the house put the rate at 2.40 cents.

The Western Independent Republicans, who combined with the Democrats to knock out of the Republican bill all rate increased except those on agricultural products, split on the sugar duty. Senators Borah of Idaho and Norris of Nebraska, leaders of this bloc, were among those voting "nay" on the Democratic proposal.
